

Wolmar | Mauritius

Maradiva Villas Resort & Spa

Previously managed by Taj Hotels and resorts, Maradiva Villas Resort and Spa is a paradise of luxurious, peaceful delight and certainly one of the finest resorts in Mauritius. Set within 27 acres of exotic gardens, vast colonial style villas with private pools and terraces gaze out over the serene turquoise lagoon of Tamarin Bay. The spa takes its spiritual inspiration from India and the philosophies of ancient eastern wellness techniques are beautifully combined with a welcoming Mauritian charm. Of the six treatment suites, all with private gardens and immense carved stone tubs, two are dedicated to Ayurvedic rituals. Resident consultants offer guidance prescribing appropriate therapies according to individual needs and, in preference to the use of commercial products, spa therapists create unique blends using natural ingredients and 100% essential oils. The natural environment is omnipresent; guests may relax in the shade of bougainvilleas or the orange scented heat of the laconium, refresh under outdoor tropical showers and revitalise in the open-air cascade pool. There is also a Yoga-meditation pavilion where trained instructors and healers conduct regular sessions, a hammam, a sauna-steam room combo called a samarium and a traditional beauty salon.

QUINTESSENTIALLY INSIDER

For direct access to the expansive tree-shaded Wolmar beach, request one of the 11 Beachfront Villa's. These also have an option to interconnect with another villa, perfect for a small groups or families.